Well's AI Health Engine deploys test-and-learn experimentation via a closed feedback loop across the entire platform to get more members to engage in their health and utilize relevant services

Personalized Health Improvement for Every Member

Well's AI Health Engine adapts and learns from every data signal, continuously optimizing a personalized stream of content, services and incentives to get every member to take the right action at the right time

Key ROI Drivers

We target the entire membership population by pairing consumer-centric engagement techniques with clinical actions proven to improve health and reduce cost

Engage preemptively

Identify members with the highest probability of moving into higher cost brackets and proactively work with them to improve their path

Drive targeted utilization

Get more members into the optimal programs and services that are proven to work, while also routing members to the optimal providers and site of care

Sustain proven programs

Keep members engaged in the clinical programs and services as opposed to dropping off

Swim upstream

Thanks to frequent engagement and an extensive range of clinical topics, we are able to go after cost and health impacts typically left untouched

Personalized engagement in proven areas across the entire population drives significant ROI for employers in addition to greater benefits to health improvement and productivity/satisfaction

Our mission is to be the world's most effective partner in the advancement of our members' health.
